THE ST. JOHN'S PRAYER

Almighty and ever living God, ruler of all things in heaven and earth, hear our prayers for St. John's, Broad Creek.

Strengthen the faithful, arouse the careless, restore the penitent, draw the seekers, and increase our numbers. Grant us all things necessary for our common life, and bring us all to be of one heart and mind within your Holy Church; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

VISION STATEMENT

St. John's will continue to grow as a positive source of comfort and love in the lives of our diverse parish family. The surrounding community will come to know us as a welcoming, inclusive shelter in a world of uncertainty, and a source of help in crisis.

MISSION STATEMENT

St. John's Church is an inclusive community of faithful believers and earnest seekers, where worship is the foundation of our common life, and where the Holy Spirit moves us to gather and thrive as a loving extended family while reaching out to serve our neighbors with the Good News of God's Love.

FROM THE PULPIT

Who do you say that we are?

The Rev. Sarah Dooks Oddenstot

In three of the four gospels, Jesus asks his disciples, "Who do the people/the crowds/you say that I am?" (Matthew 16.14, Mark 8.27, Luke 9.18, Matthew 16.15) Matthew, Mark, and Luke tell many of the same stories about Jesus' life; biblical scholars refer to them as the Synoptic Gospels. Synoptic means to see with one eye. The synoptic gospels tell and order the stories of Jesus' life in much the same way. Biblical scholars believe that Matthew and Luke likely used Mark's gospel as source material for their own work. Still, when I see this kind of consensus, I get excited and curious!

All three of the synoptic gospels use this story in the middle section of their Gospels. The disciples have been following Jesus for some time and have had an opportunity to form an opinion. I think Jesus was doing more than testing his disciples' (and the people's) understanding. I imagine this was an opportunity for Jesus to assess his own leadership and ministry. How are we doing? Do they get it?

If you talk to the monks who study leadership and organizational development, they will tell you that those leaders and organizations that thrive – that are successful at the work they set out to do – regularly engage in assessment and reflection. They are also willing to change and redirect based on the feedback they receive. Thriving leaders and organizations are always asking questions: Are we living into our mission? Is what we do reflective of who we say we are? Who/What do others say that we are? It is a new year and a good time to enter into some reflection and assessment.

Who do you say that St. John's is? In the catechism in the Book of Common Prayer (BCP 845-862) the question is asked: "What is the mission of the Church?" The answer offered states: "The mission of the Church is to restore all people to unity with God and each other in Christ." (BCP 855) What does that mean to you? I hear this saying that we are to bring people together by sharing the love and mercy and justice of Jesus.

William Temple was the Arch Bishop of Canterbury from 1942-1944. (The Arch Bishop of Canterbury is the head of the worldwide Anglican Communion of which the Episcopal Church is a part. Our Presiding Bishop does not work for the Arch Bishop of Canterbury, but rather takes advisement from Canterbury.) Temple famously said of the church, "The Church is the only (organization) that exists for the benefit of those who are not yet its members."

As a leader in the church, I regularly need to remind myself that not only are we here to build relationships, but also that we are primarily concerned with reaching out to those who are not yet Christians and/or a part of our community. This is called evangelism, my friends! The Episcopal Church tends to struggle with Evangelism because we are often more concerned about how we do things (Rite I, Rite II, high church, low church...) than we are about why we do things (introducing others to the love we have found in Jesus Christ).

So how are we doing? Where do you meet Jesus at St. John's?

In the coming months there will be opportunities to participate in self assessment and in reflection on St. John's mission and ministry. I hope that you will avail yourself to the process! Who do you say that we are?

PRESIDENTS' DAY (HISTORY)

SOURCE: <https://www.britannica.com/topic/Presidents-Day>

Presidents' Day, officially Washington's Birthday, in the United States, holiday (third Monday in February) popularly recognized as honouring George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. The day is sometimes understood as a celebration of the birthdays and lives of all U.S. presidents.

The origin of Presidents' Day lies in the 1880s, when the birthday of Washington—commander of the Continental Army during the American Revolution and the first president of the United States—was first celebrated as a federal holiday. In 1968 Congress passed the Uniform Monday Holiday Bill, which moved a number of federal holidays to Mondays. The change was designed to schedule certain holidays so that workers had a number of long weekends throughout the year, but it has been opposed by those who believe that those holidays should be celebrated on the dates they actually commemorate.

During debate on the bill, it was proposed that Washington's Birthday be renamed Presidents' Day to honour the birthdays of both Washington (February 22) and Lincoln (February 12); although Lincoln's birthday was celebrated in many states, it was never an official federal holiday. Following much discussion, Congress rejected the name change.

After the bill went into effect in 1971, however, Presidents' Day became the commonly accepted name, due in part to retailers' use of that name to promote sales and the holiday's proximity to Lincoln's birthday. Presidents' Day is usually marked by public ceremonies in Washington, D.C., and throughout the country.

VALENTINE'S DAY (HISTORY)

SOURCE: <https://www.britannica.com/topic/Valentines-Day>

Valentine's Day, also called St. Valentine's Day, holiday (February 14) when lovers express their affection with greetings and gifts. The holiday has origins in the Roman festival of Lupercalia, held in mid-February. The festival, which celebrated the coming of spring, included fertility rites and the pairing off of women with men by lottery. At the end of the 5th century, Pope Gelasius I replaced Lupercalia with St. Valentine's Day. It came to be celebrated as a day of romance from about the 14th century.

Although there were several Christian martyrs named Valentine, the day may have taken its name from a priest who was martyred about 270 CE by the emperor Claudius II Gothicus. According to legend, the priest signed a letter "from your Valentine" to his jailer's daughter, whom he had befriended and, by some accounts, healed from blindness. Other accounts hold that it was St. Valentine of Terni, a bishop, for whom the holiday was named, though it is possible the two saints were actually one person. Another common legend states that St. Valentine defied the emperor's orders and secretly married couples to spare the husbands from war. It is for this reason that his feast day is associated with love.

Formal messages, or valentines, appeared in the 1500s, and by the late 1700s commercially printed cards were being used. The first commercial valentines in the United States were printed in the mid-1800s. Valentines commonly depict Cupid, the Roman god of love, along with hearts, traditionally the seat of emotion. Because it was thought that the avian mating season begins in mid-February, birds also became a symbol of the day. Traditional gifts include candy and flowers, particularly red roses, a symbol of beauty and love.

Machu Picchu, also spelled Machupijchu, site of ancient Inca ruins located about 50 miles (80 km) northwest of Cuzco, Peru, in the Cordillera de Vilcabamba of the Andes Mountains. It is perched above the Urubamba River valley in a narrow saddle between two sharp peaks—Machu Picchu (“Old Peak”) and Huayna Picchu (“New Peak”)—at an elevation of 7,710 feet. One of the few major pre-Columbian ruins found nearly intact, Machu Picchu was designated a UNESCO World Heritage site in 1983.
