Planting Seeds Filled With Hope

The Rev. Sarah Douds Oldenwal

Round about this time of year – late fall/early winter (in Minnesota) – the seed catalogs would begin to arrive in the mail... Burpee, Harris, and others. My mother always set them aside in a special pile next to her chair. Mom put all the other catalogs we received in mounds by the 3 wood burning stoves in our home; we used their pages to build fires. This special pile of catalogs tickled my curiosity. I asked my mother why she put the seed catalogs in a special pile. She said she was saving them.

"Why?" I asked.

"I'm saving them for when I need hope." She replied.

"Hope?" This answer made no sense to me.

"Yes, hope. In January, when I am sick and tired of winter, these seed catalogs will remind me that spring and summer will come. Planning our next garden gives me hope."

The theme of our annual giving campaign is Planting Seeds.

Seeds are filled with hope – the promise of new life.

When we plant seeds, we receive and offer the gift of hope. The Episcopal Diocese of Washington created the thematic materials we are using. The following link will take you to a reflection on Planting Seeds from Bishop Mariann: <https://youtu.be/PP-feOKDqpQ>

Today, we continue to harvest the fruit of seeds planted along Broad Creek over three-hundred-and-twenty-five years ago. St. John's is "who" it is today because of the seeds planted by the generations that have preceded us. What seeds do we need to plant today in order to assure that the community that planted St. John's Broad Creek is bearing good fruit in five years? 25 years? 100 years? 325 years?

Your pledge to St. John's is like a seed catalog. Whether you are offering your time, your talent or your treasure, your pledge is hope. Your commitment of a financial pledge – letting us know what you intend to give if all goes well – allows your leadership to plan. Planning for our future together gives us all hope!

I'm glad we are in the same corner of God's garden!

Best Love, Pastor Sarah

Fort Washington Medical Center Joins Adventist HealthCare in 2019

Adventist HealthCare and Nexus Health/Fort Washington Medical Center announced on Monday, October 28, 2019 that they have signed a definitive merger agreement to have Fort Washington Medical Center, an acute-care hospital in Prince George's County, to become part of Adventist HealthCare.

St. John's members Charles Day, Ike Puzon and Eric Odderstol served on the FWMC board.

Fort Washington Medical Center is a 37-bed hospital located just south of National Harbor in a growing section of the region. It cares for close to 40,000 patients a year in its emergency department and, like Adventist HealthCare, has a strong commitment to serving the needs of their community.

Given the changes in healthcare both nationally and in Maryland, joining Adventist HealthCare will allow Fort Washington Medical Center to expand its high-quality healthcare services in Prince George's County and overcome the challenges of operating as a standalone community hospital. Adventist HealthCare will invest $35 million over five years to help the Medical Center continue to meet the needs of the community.

"Bringing Fort Washington Medical Center into the Adventist HealthCare family provides opportunities to combine our shared missions of improving the health of Maryland residents," said Terry Forde, President & CEO of Adventist HealthCare. "Our organization has a long tradition of serving Prince George's County, and we look forward to strengthening the Medical Center's presence in that part of the region through outpatient services, as well as expanded physician practices."

Adventist HealthCare, founded in 1907, serves patients throughout the Washington, D.C., region. The organization features a comprehensive spectrum of care including: two acute-care hospitals; a physical rehabilitation hospital with outpatient locations; physician practices; and services for mental health, home care, imaging and urgent care. It is a regional leader in heart, stroke, physical rehabilitation, cancer, OB, and other medical specialty care. On Aug. 25, its new Adventist HealthCare White Oak Medical Center will open just off Route 29 in Montgomery County, replacing the current Washington Adventist Hospital in Takoma Park.

"Joining Adventist HealthCare represents a major milestone in our longstanding mission to provide quality healthcare to our community," said Henry W. Mosley, chair of the board that oversees Fort Washington Medical Center. "We pledge a continued, shared commitment to healthcare innovation and look forward to building on our promise to our patients to create a model of care that improves choice, access and enhances the quality of care."

Adventist HealthCare and Fort Washington Medical Center will spend the next months outlining strategic plans and determining how best to grow services and operations.

We extend God's care through the ministry of physical, mental, and spiritual healing.

From Bishop Mariann

DEAR FRIENDS OF THE DIOCESE OF WASHINGTON,

I am thrilled to call our diocese together for a weekend of spiritual rededication and renewal January 24-26, 2020, culminating in a public revival with Presiding Bishop Michael Curry on Sunday, January 26, at 2 p.m. at the Entertainment and Sports Arena in Washington, DC.

The theme for the weekend and for the revival itself is More Jesus: More Love, a reminder that only as we draw closer to Jesus can we grow in our capacity to love as Jesus loves. Plans are underway now for a series of events over the weekend to help us individually and as communities of faith to take our next steps toward Christ and follow in his way of love.

The revival is not for ourselves alone, but for those we will invite to join us for a service of uplifting music, personal testimony, the Presiding Bishop's word to us, and Holy Eucharist. The Entertainment and Sports Arena seats over 4,000 people, and we will live stream the event around the diocese and throughout the world. It will be fully bi-lingual, multicultural, and focused on reaching rising generations.

The revival weekend will also mark the official launch of our strategic vision for the next five years.

PRIDE, CONFIDENCE, AND JOY

Gordon C. James acolyte and confirmand from St. John's Broad Creek will be back home in Fort Washington for the first week of December. He will be at The Oxon Hill Library on Monday, December 2 at 6:10 p.m. and at Mahogany Books (1231 Good Hope Rd. SE, Washington, D.C.) on Saturday, December 7 from 2-4 p.m. He is hoping to see his St. John's family out in force, old friends and new, to support him on these occasions.

Gordon attended Suitland High School Center for the Visual and Performing Arts and received a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the School Of Visual Arts in New York City.

He was hired at Hallmark Cards, Inc. after a nation wide search that chose only two full time illustrators. He illustrated Crown- An Ode To The Fresh Cut which was on many best seller/best reads lists to include that of NPR and The New York and LA Times. Crown earned several major literary awards including the Newberry (Honor); the Caldicott (Honor); the Ezra Jack Keats (Honor); and the Coretta Scott King (Honor); and, he won the national Gold Medal for 2018 from the American Society of Illustrators. Finally, in October 2018, he won the coveted Kirkus Award.

He and author Derrick Barnes shared several of these awards. In 2018, another book he illustrated, 'Let 'Er Buck,' a children's biopic about African-American bronco rider George Fletcher was released. It continues to earn rave reviews; and, currently, he is working on more book commissions and continuing to travel to meet lecture invitations at schools, libraries, and book festivals.

Gordon hopes to be at Potomac Landing (his old elementary school), The Bishop Walker School, and of course St. John's Broad Creek to reminisce and share his experiences.

CHEERING FOR UNITY

Everyone loves a winner; but we cheered on the Washington Nationals for the unity they brought to this city, for the grace they brought to the challenge, for their resilience in adversity and for reminding everyone that there are ways to come together, regardless of the labels we claim or the uniforms we wear.

Our friends at Christ Church Cathedral Houston reminded us how to disagree without being disagreeable, and how we can build bonds of affection across difference and distance.

We don't give thanks for winning a ball game; we give thanks for the remarkable joy this team has brought to a city in desperate need of something to celebrate.

On Sunday, October 6, the diocese gathered to welcome The Rt. Rev. Chilton Knudsen. Bishop Chilton began sharing her many gifts throughout the diocese in February and quickly won the affection, admiration, and gratitude of all she meets and works with. We are grateful for her!

Of the event, Bishop Chilton says, "The service was wonderful beyond all my expectations. Many of you were able to be there. Others sent dear notes and kind thoughts. I've done a lot of hello-ings and goodbye-ings in our church, and this was one of the best!"
